‘SOMETIMES, THERE IS SAFETY IN NUMBERS...’

No matter how large your company is, there are some risks that are just too big to manage alone. Like your exposure to claims alleging negligent advice and design.

Now, you can access enough Professional Indemnity Insurance protection to cover even the largest claims, at a price you can afford. In conjunction with the IES, Aon has developed the IES Members' Professional Indemnity Insurance program; a S$25 million insurance pool that is shared among the participating members.

The policy is underwritten by the Beazley Syndicate at Lloyd's, and provides the broadest cover available in the market. And for most of our participating members, the annual premium is lower than that they were paying for their individual cover.

Directory Usage Guide

The format of the listings in this Directory has been updated since the last edition. Similar to the previous edition, members are categorized according to the engineering field they are in, whether they are in the public or private sector, and their occupation type. Within those sub-categories, they are arranged in alphabetical order. Below is an example of the structure of a field of engineering and how it is broken down into sub-categories.

CIVIL & STRUCTURAL ENGINEERING
Public Sector
- Education
- Non-Education

Private Sector
- Consulting
- Contracting
- Development
- Manufacturing/Production
- Others

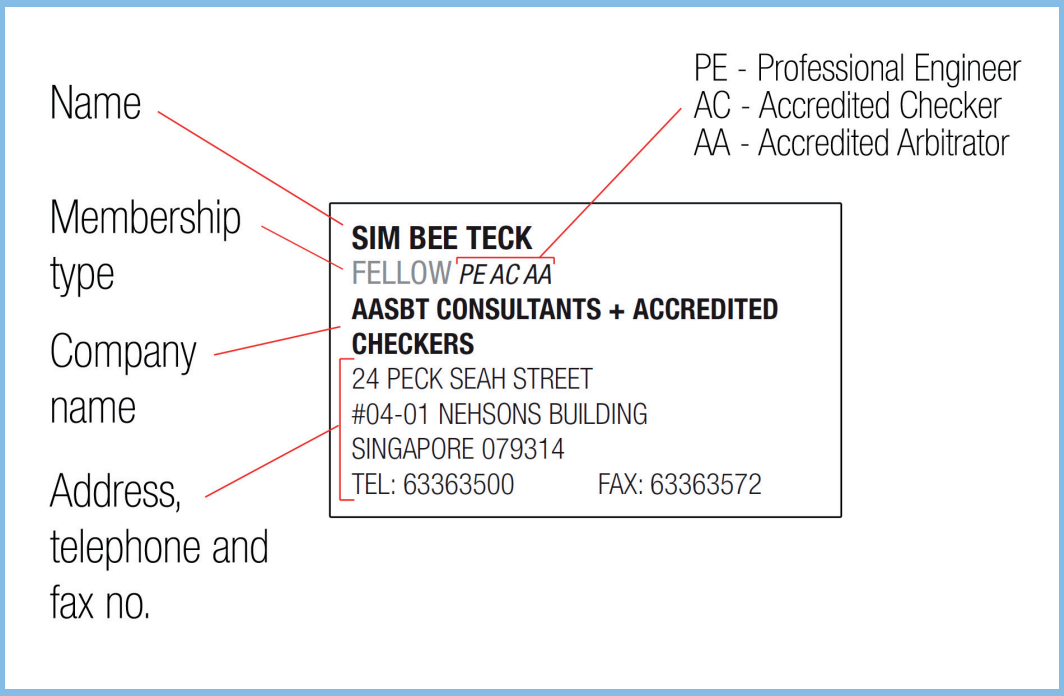
To help readers look up and find specific members of IES, an alphabetical name index can be used to find the page their listing is on. This name index is located at the back of the directory, together with three new indices.

The three new indices introduced in this edition of the Directory is used to list the Professional Engineers (PEs), Accredited Checkers (ACs) and Accredited Arbitrators (AAs) who are members of IES, instead of having separate sections to list them.

All indices are arranged in alphabetical order and direct you to the page where the listing of the individual you are looking for is located.

Each listing also provides more information for each member. There is now an additional line under each name to indicate the membership type and whether the individual is a Professional Engineer, an Accredited Checker or an Accredited Arbitrator. An example can be seen in the box below.



MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Fellow Members,

You hold in your hand a veritable record of the long years of association of like-minded professionals, colleagues, and friends who share a common interest in the pursuit of learning and making the profession of engineering more meaningful and rewarding. In these pages of the Directory, you will find members of diverse disciplines and experience. While some among us have developed deep competencies in their chosen profession, or have become successful entrepreneurs, many are still in the steady climb up the career ladder and will come to realize that membership of IES offers a myriad of ways for self-improvement, redundancy-proofing and broadening our personal horizons. It is with this in mind that much effort has been put into producing this latest compilation of the Directory.

As we continue to expand the ranks of engineers in IES, we are also constantly looking at making the Directory more than just a listing of names but do a better job of informing members about our society. Yet, at the same time, we are well aware that the Directory cannot continue to grow thicker as we add new materials. Therefore, the Directory team has had to be very creative to come up with ways to enhance the information flow within these pages while making the volume more manageable without loss of content. Ultimately, the team set out to make the Directory more readable and user-friendly.

If you notice that the Directory has become thinner, it is due to a reorganization of the members' information. The primary reference for names has been relocated to the back of the book in the various indices. You will be able to read more about how to use the Directory from the Directory Usage Guide.

As the economy diversifies, the engineering profession will need to keep pace with development by deepening competencies across a broadening range of industry skills. Moreover, it is increasingly required for engineers to collaborate in multi-disciplinary projects. Therefore, it is hoped that the IES Directory will serve as a reference for those who wish to seek out comparative experiences, to share and explore future collaboration, or to just form common grounds for pursuing mutually beneficial activities. IES stands ready to serve our members and if this Directory helps open doors or create pathways for personal growth, then all the effort in this project is well worth the effort.

With this new edition of the Directory, we encourage members to give us feedback and ideas for enhancing the Directory so as to make the publication an invaluable keepsake. The Directory is still being distributed as a printed copy and as a CD. Over time, the team hopes to exploit technology so as to bring the Directory to members more readily.

As IES seeks to add value to membership, it is crucial that we are able to attract into our fold new members who could bring fresh ideas and reinforce our activity base with strong commitment to serve the society and the community. I appeal to all our members featured in this Directory to come forward, and enroll your friends and colleagues in IES, if you have not done so, to serve in the various committees and in the IES Council.

BRC Prefab
The Art of Reinforcing

BRC ASIA LIMITED

Description of Company:

BRC Asia Limited is a solutions provider for prefabricated reinforcing steel and have been involved in the design and manufacture of steel mesh since 1938. The company is one of the pioneers in the manufacture and marketing of steel mesh in the Singapore construction industry and was granted pioneer status by the Government in 1963. BRC listed on the Singapore Stock Exchange in August 2000.

Through its pro-active engagement with engineers, contractors and steel fixers, BRC has over the years, successfully developed innovative products like beam/column/pilecap cages, Civil Defence shelter mesh, F-mesh, heavy prefabricated beam and column reinforcement.

BRC's latest state-of-the-art mesh welding machines are highly flexible and efficient, enabling instant changes in mesh configurations or even diameters. As a result, it is able to tailor make mesh to customers' requirements on a Just-In-Time basis with response time of 24 hours or less.

BRC's vision is to prefabricate a major portion of reinforcement in reinforced concrete structures for in-situ installation of for pre-cast elements. By transferring the labourious and unproductive in-situ steel fixing work to factory fabrication, BRC helps customers boost their site productivity significantly. Substantial benefits in on-site manpower savings, shorter construction cycle, better buildability and productivity are now achievable.

In the last 2 years, BRC invested in plant and machinery to become a major cut and bend supplier. This initiative makes BRC the most complete reinforcing player in the market – offering standard length rebar, cut and bend services, welded mesh and prefabricated products.

BRC firmly supports the initiatives spelt out in Construction 21 to reduce reliance on unskilled workers and to adopt labour-efficient design and pre-assembled products. BRC will therefore continue to invest in the latest machinery and information technology, engineering resources and research and development and be Your Partner in Reinforcing Solution.
